Professional summary:

I've been a teacher and private tutor for the last 50 years certified in the following areas: Nursery, Kindergarten, Grades 1-6, Reading, Special Education, and Secondary English 7-12. I was the founder and director of The Pioneer School, a private NYS certified charter school located in Bridgehampton, New York, which focused on teaching children with language-based learning difficulties, specifically dyslexia. I'm a senior partner and the vice-president of a family-owned, East Hampton building corporation. Along with my teaching and business responsibilities, I'm presently working on a third master's in creative writing and literature at Harvard University where I've discovered a love for screenwriting and film.

Skills:

Seasoned and skilled teacher, savvy businesswoman, possessing outstanding organizational skills, and a creative, proficient writer.

Personal interests:

Organic gardening, hiking, canoeing, cross-country skiing, fast walking, cooking, dancing, and the practice of tai chi.

Community service:

From 2014 to 2019, I was a member of the Auxiliary Squad in East Hampton Volunteer Ocean Rescue responsible for public relations, news articles, photography, and water safety/hands only CPR presentations. Two of those years, I served as the squad's lieutenant.

During that same time, I was a member of the East Hampton Environmental Coalition - a group that works to preserve and improve the natural environment in East Hampton.

In 1998 to 2000 – I chaired the Environmental sub-committee for the East Hampton Town Cancer Task Force after our high school had a cluster of student cancers.

From 1995 to Present – I sponsored, coordinated, and participated in various Hampton Lifeguard Association events.

From 1981 to 1986, I co-chaired The East End Shoreham Opponents, running weekly meetings and events, while delivering speeches at the PSC and NRC hearings. Our volunteer organization was part of a larger group, The Shoreham Opponents, who, after many years of fighting, successfully shuttered the Shoreham Nuclear Power Plant.

From 1987 to 1990, I was invited to be a founding member of The Joint Town East End Lyme Disease Task Force, involved with legislative issues, funding, and educational awareness for the public sector.

From 1982 to 1987, I was a 4-H Organizational leader.

A rainbow of kids made up my group. We called ourselves, The East Hampton Stars.

From 1979 to 2006, I was a PTA member and a class mother that supervised school dances, field trips, and other events.

Accomplishments:

Married to my high school sweetheart for 54 years, a mother of two grown sons, and a grandmother of two amazing young adult grandchildren.

Publications:

2013 – Published the YA novel The Journey of Hannah Woods.

2016 – Published the YA novel Stoked-1969.
